Executive Field Summary

North America's largest specialty distributor of disaster restoration equipment, antimicrobial chemistry, PPE, and abatement supplies—expanding its national footprint significantly after acquiring key assets of shuttered rival Jon-Don in May 2025.

Core Capabilities & Restoration Workflow Fit

Multi-branch nationwide distribution and rapid catastrophe staging, multi-OEM equipment sales/rentals (Legend Brands, Phoenix, Abatement), truckmount service centers, and IICRC training academies.

Corporate Ownership & M&A Verification Note

Independent operating specialty distributor backed by private equity (AEA Investors). Acquired key Jon-Don assets (inventory, accounts, USAClean) following Jon-Don's May 9, 2025 permanent shutdown.

Procurement Due-Diligence & Field Watch-Outs

Following Jon-Don's May 2025 exit, audit consolidated supplier pricing, regional branch stock depth, credit terms, and secondary distributor backup (e.g., Abatix or Inline) to avoid single-distributor concentration risk.

Ecosystem & Software / Distribution Integrations

Bulk e-commerce SKU ordering, corporate national-account billing, and equipment repair/warranty depot services.

Practitioner Frequently Asked Questions

Q: How did Jon-Don's May 2025 closure affect Aramsco?
After Jon-Don permanently ceased operations on May 9, 2025, Aramsco acquired key Jon-Don assets—including inventory, customer accounts, and USAClean—cementing Aramsco's position as the dominant national restoration distributor.

Q: Does Aramsco own Abatix or Inline Distributing?
No—Restoration Intel verified via primary sources that Abatix (employee-owned ESOP) and Inline Distributing (independent private company) remain separate competing distributors.

Q: What catastrophe support does Aramsco offer during hurricanes and freezes?
Aramsco runs a 24/7 disaster support line and stages mobile supply trailers stocked with dehumidifiers, poly, HEPA filters, and PPE near active storm zones.
